

As a first time business owner, I really didn't know a good landlord from a bad one, but I can definitely say that Development Associates has been there for me. As a start-up, I needed incubation space to get me going and within a year I was looking to double that space. D.A. was there, both times making it easy for me with flexible lease terms and quick building modifications, helping us stay ahead of the growth curve. So it appears I was wrong when I said I didn't know a good landlord from a bad one. I guess I do know a good one.
